Original Poetry.

For the Republican.

JEPTHAH'S DAUGHTER.

BY BECKIE HARRIS.

A maiden fair, with golden hair,
Knelt by her father's side,
So meek and mild, the only child,
Of Jepthah's lovely bride.

Of't men essayed to woe the maid,
But none had ever won;
All were afraid, and while they mused
A dreadful war begun.

So had it fate, his wealth was great,
And dreadful was his might;
His brothers, then—malicious men,
Called him to help them fight.

This daughter fair, with golden hair,
Was pleading, but in vain,
For him to stay, from strife away,
And there with her remain.

But Jepthah went, he so intent,
On winning vict'ries now;
To be more sure, and vict'ry lure,
He made a rash, rash vow.

The vow was this: should peace be his,
The first on his return;
Who met him gay, with joyful lay,
Should on the alter burn.

He did not think, that on the brink
His only child should stand;
* * 'Twas on the morrow, to his sorrow,
He saw her waving hand.

History of the 49th Pennsylvania.

BY A. B. HUTCHISON,
Late Captain of Company 'C.'

CHAPTER XV.

Mine Run—Brandy Station—Winter Quarters—Review by Russian Naval Officers—Re-enlistment of Veterans—Grant in Command—Drafted Men—Drilling and Preparing—March to Wilderness—First day's Fighting—Three days Fight—Death of Gen. Sedgwick.

We crossed the Rapidan May 4th, and encamped on the south bank of the river, in a pleasant camp. All was serene and peaceful, as yet; not even a sign of rebels near us. The hills, all about us, were illuminated by the camp fires of our troops, and the scene, on that last quiet night, before the bloody trip through the Wilderness, was picturesque and romantic.

Next day we moved forward for several miles, when, forming our line of battle, we moved into the woods, and, with great difficulty, made our way towards the enemy. The Wilderness, here, was a reality; and was full of briers that made any progress through it, not only slow, but rather annoying. About noon, as our line was working their way thro' the thickets, we were suddenly saluted by a volley of bullets, coming from an invisible enemy, in the bush, in front.—We immediately went into them, and succeeded in capturing about thirty of them, and drove the rest back. We now found the enemy in force, and some fighting in the bushes was kept up all afternoon.

We had lost about thirty men in this first day's fighting, and the prospect for a severe experience seemed good. We lay down in line, and slept well as tired men will, until about daylight, when we were aroused by firing. Slowly, but surely, it extended, first right, then left, until our whole line seemed to be engaged. Soon we began to exchange leaden compliments with our enemy, and to look for some indication of our expected order to move upon their works.

We built barricades of brush, logs and all sorts of rubbish, but made no move. At night, however, the rebels charged the right of our line, held by our 3d Division, 6th Corps, and completely turned it, driving our men in the greatest confusion right down in our rear, and nearly capturing Gen Sedgwick at his Head Quarters in our immediate vicinity.

We were left with the rebels firing upon us from both front and rear, and with our troops in inextricable confusion all around. But our Second Division, changing front, came to our aid promply, and though, in the darkness and thickets, we, no doubt, killed some of our own fleeing troops, yet we drove off the rebels, and then quietly got out of that place. We were losing men all that time, and felt matters were not in satisfactory shape. We moved back to the rear towards morning and halted long enough to cook and eat our breakfast, and get some rest, finding some works there built by our troops during the night.

Here we remained until near evening, knowing only that we had gained no real advantage of the enemy, and yet that we had not been seriously hurt.—In the evening we moved to near the old Chancellorsville battlefield, still having an occasional spurt of skirmishing with the rebels at some point. We lost only one or two men wounded, however, this day, and went into camp in good time. Our new men had behaved well, in this, their first campaign, and the 49th felt very confident of a glorious victory very soon, for we thought we were just the boys who could go through a wilderness, even if it was full of briers, and rifle pits, and rebels.

On the 8th of May, we marched on, with some fighting, towards Spottsylvania C. H., and, on nearing it, in the evening, were hurried forward to help some 5th corps troops who were in a fight, and were being crowded by the enemy. We did not get very much of a fight out of them, as they did not seem much inclined to press our lines after they found us prepared to receive them in effective style.

We fired at each other a little, made a great deal of noise, frightened a Wisconsin Lieutenant so badly that he got a discharge very suddenly for his conduct on the occasion, and then lay down in line without supper and slept until morning.

On May 9th we moved off toward the left. It was a beautiful morning, and there was an unusual quiet. Now and then a shot by some skirmisher or picket was heard, but scarcely enough to attract attention.

Suddenly there was a commotion, and an ambulance started to the skirmish line in a great hurry. Then we saw some men coming up with a stretcher, and on it the well-known military cloak of Gen. Sedgwick, covering some one who lay like one dead. In a moment the news spread from rank to rank. It is uncle John. He was shot while looking out a position for the artillery along the picket line.

Gen. Sedgwick was dead. He had been long our commander, and none was more beloved. Known as uncle John all through the corps, he was loved for his real kindness, respected for his soldierly ability, and feared for his stern requirements of the proper performance of our duties. An eccentric old bachelor, he had few men in his command whose peculiarities were so marked, and yet so innocent of giving pain to others. He never objected to a horse-race or a cock-fight, but would not allow a ball in the corps. He lay down in his rubber blanket, setting his flag on a fence stake, or sticking at his feet, and seldom required a tent when in active campaigning, while brigade and division commanders were getting quarters fitted up in good style by their servants and hangers-on.

We mourned John Sedgwick in reality, and with reason.

We have built him a monument at West Point, from a fund contributed by the officers of the old 6th corps, and yet, as long as the cross we love is remembered, we shall find in the history of this modest, faithful soldier of the Union, as it will appear in the record of our great struggle, a more lasting monument than the beautiful marble we have inscribed with his name. Our army had no better corps commander. We felt his loss. All the 6th corps was, we owed to him; for he made us soldiers, and taught us how to win the glory we did win on the battle-fields of 1864.

JUST THE SAME.—Some years ago (so the story goes), a farmer living not a thousand miles from New York, gave one of his sons some money, and told him to go out West and remain two years; at the end of which time, if he would return to a specified place, one of his brothers would meet him. The young man went, and returned and met his brother according to appointment, although no communication had taken place between them during the time. While going homeward together, the wanderer, after relating some of his adventures, inquired whether anything had happened since he had left home.

"No, not a single thing," replied the other, "everything is just the same as when you left, except that the old crow died."

"Indeed," said the wanderer, "and is the old crow dead? What killed him?"

"Why he ate too much meat when the matched horses died."

"Good gracious! are the matched horses dead? What killed them?"

"Well you see when the house and barn was burned, they overdid themselves in hauling water."

Good gracious! are the house and barn burned down? How did it happen?"

"Well, you see, when daddy died, they, were carrying lights about, and were careless."

"Good gracious! and is daddy dead?"

"What was the matter with him?"

"Well, you see, when Sal ran away and got married against daddy's wishes, he just pined away and died."

"Good gracious! so nothing has happened since I've been away?"

"No, everything is just the same."

A NEWLY inducted policeman spotted a richly dressed lady in a dry goods store on suspicion of shop-lifting. "You are my prisoner," he said, laying his hand on her shoulder. What do you mean?" demanked the insulted lady. 'What's that you've got on your back—stolen goods!" Heaven! I never was so insulted No sir it is not stolen goods." "I mean no offence, madam but my duty compels me to examine it." "Sir—villain—that's my—my Grecian bend!"

NEVER intentionally wound the feelings of anybody. The good opinion of the world is the very best kind you can have, and the more the better. The man or woman who says he or she doesn't care a pin what the world thinks or says gives utterance to what they know is absolutely false. We do care, and it is well we do; and those are gravely mistaken who say they do not.

A FARMER who lives on a certain hill called "Hard Scrabble," not a hundred miles from this place says, last summer, owing to the drouth, and poor land together, the grass was so short that he had to lather it before he could mow it.

"OH where do you get the red for you cheeks?" said a pale wan young lady to a bright laughing minx.

"Where the roses get their's, in the air and sunlight," was the reply.

Aristocracy.

We are requested to republish the following article, which was written by the gifted N. P. Rodgers, and published in the Herald of freedom, at Concord, New Hampshire. Mr. R. was a lawyer, and belonged to one of the best families of New England. He had few equals in his day, for sharp, piquant writing. A more decided hit at that meanest of all the manifestation of American society, could not well be found. We quote:

"Let me give it an off hand blow here.—Hateful, heartless Aristocracy. I detest it above all things. I was subject to its bloated frown, when I was a boy—and I have a very early, if not a native, inborn abhorrence of it. It has no idea you have any rights or feelings. You do not belong to the same race with your paltry, apeish Aristocracy. He dose not associate with you, when you are with him. He makes use of you. He does not recognize you as a party interest in what is going on. You are no more a companion to him, than his horse or his dog—and you are no more than a dog or a horse, if you condescend to be of his association. He belongs to the first families. By first here, is meant last and least in every thing honorable to humanity. First in idleness—first in indulgence, first in scorn of humanity. Sometimes you will find it happening amid the ranks of humanity and reform. It is when it is eccentric and ill balanced, that it strays in there. It will keep its eccentricity—but not part from its haughtiness. One day or other it will break out. King Richard could carouse and fight by the side of Robin Hood and the outlaws of Sherwood forest—but every now and then, outlawed freedom would show its claws and teeth. Richard was an odd King—and went among the brave outlaws, and fought on foot among them. But when outlaws took the liberty to speak to him, on even terms of fellow-soldiership, it roused the Lion in him, and he roared and shook his mane. Aristocracy has none of the Lion in it—but it feels bigger than a whole den of Lions. You must beware of it. You can't live with it. It regards every thing allowed you, as an allowance—a favor. You have no rights. If you receive anything, you must do homage for it.

Now I like refinement—and dislike coarseness and grossness. I am disgusted at dirtiness of spirit. But I abominate uppishness. I like washed hands—but not these "dainty fingers." Cleanliness and elegance, to any extent, and the refined and delicate taste. These are often united with yeomanly nature—with freedom from all superciliousness and self-worship—and I love them. But this Aristocracy, I will not tolarate or endure. I have not the sligtest respect for it. I will not treat it courteously even. I will not treat it at all. I will not have it about. It is the very genius of this accurs'd slave-master. You have got to be a slave to it.

It comes by birth. It comes by money. It comes of idleness, even. It is engendered by trade and by office. Old wealth, however, breeds it the most grossly and offensively—a generation or to of homage paid by poverty to bloated opulence, will breed, it—the worst kind. It will turn up the nose of the third or fourth generation, along—so that it can hardly smell common folks, as they go on the ground. You can tell its nose and upper lips, as far as you can see them. And there is a dumpsy daisy look about the eyes and eyebrows. As much as to say "I care considerable less than nothing about yeh." And the voice too—it is amazingly peculiar.

Now any body may be as well born as they've a mind to. My father was a gentleman as they call it—and a scholar. A good deal of a scholar. And he was educated. And was of Harvard College—not poor New Hampshire Dartmouth, Harvard College of Massachusetts. And he was of the learned profession. And his father was a learned divine, and his grandfather—and great-grandfather—and I don't know how far back. One of them, not far back, was President of Harvard College—and back farther yet, one was burnt at the stake. I am well descended enough, far's I know, but somehow, it never made me dispise any body. I never could help seeing equal humanity in every living creature, however poor and forlorn. And my father did before me. Perhaps, if he had been an Aristocrat, I should have been one. But he had too much sense. Too much real character and manhood. I am half inclined to think, I have. That is—I haven't a vein or an iota of uppish blood in me—and it must be owing to something. I haven't any superfluity of sense,—but—too much to be an Aristocrat. Finally, it doesn't take much, to be an Aristocrat. I guess Aristocracy is lack of sense, as much as anything. Sense—of a certain sort—may accompay it,—or be in the same creature. But it is a senseless concern—and moreover—superlatively hateful.

WHAT HE WANTED.—"Fellow citizens," said a stump orator, "we have the best government in the world, and the best country. No people on the face of the globe enjoys more privileges than we do. We have the liberty of the press without onorous despotism. What, fellow citizens, is more desirable than this? Can you want anything more, my countrymen?"

"Yes, sir-ee!" shouted a listener, "I want a suck out of that flask sticking out of your coat pocket behind."

Modesty promotes worth, but conceals it, just as leaves aid the growth of fruit and hide it from view.

Political.

The Poor Man's Candidate.

When a man permits his name to be presented to the people as a candidate for office—especially when that office is the Chief Magistracy of the State—he must expect his character to be ventilated, all his antecedents under review and commented on.—The Reading Times has commenced this delicate operation in reference to Asa Packer. That paper is authority for the fact that that gentleman amassed at least a portion of his wealth by driving hard bargains with the poor

It alleges that many years ago—some twenty-six—he had heavy contracts for boating coal to New York, having almost a monopoly of the business. While engaged in this profitable trade, he was so hard on the boatmen that they resorted to a strike.—

In order to persuade or force them to continue their labor, Mr. Packer went to South Easton, where they were congregated; but, says the Times so violent was the feeling against him that he was siezed by the men, thrown into the Lehigh, and would have been drowned but for a timely rescue.—

So exasperated were the men against Packer, that they drove the man who had saved his life from the ground with stones. We tell the tale as the Times relates it; and there is this renewal of the subject in that paper of yesterday: "It is a fact worthy of note that the man who rescued Asa Packer from a watery grave on the 31st day of July, 1843, though a Democrat, is not in favor of his election as Governor of the State. He knows the man and that is sufficient. There will be some more of the same sort."

Under all the circumstanes the calling of this $20,000,000 nabob the poor man,s candidate" by the Democratic press has a queer sound. It don't strike softly on the tympanum.—Tel.

THE NAME OF A SOLDIER SICKENS THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—After the Packer and Cass men had borne their banners into the recent Democratic State Convention and placed them near the head of the hall, each having inscribed thereon the name of its choice, a body of men who supported Hancock entered the hall bearing aloft a banner upon whose folds emblazoned the name of "Hancock."—This was too much for weak Democratic stomachs, and Wallace, who occupied the chair, notwithstanding the enthusiastic cheering of outsides, preemtorily ordered the banner out of the hall. Thus again do the Democracy openly insult even the soldiers who claim protection in their own ranks.—Bloomsburg Republican.

WE cannot say how sorry we are for Mr. Asa Packer, the "Democratic" candidate for Governor in Pennsylvania. He is said to be worth $20,000,000, and the way in which he will be phlebotomized by the party is painful to think of. He was rich enough to buy the nomination, but he is not probably rich enough to buy an election

Great numbers of hungry fuglemen will profit by the depletion of Mr. Packer's purse; but it is pretty hard that the man should be forced to pay for the precious rib-roasting which is in store for him. We have always thought that "Democratic" candidates sho'd be handsomely paid for running; but here is an unfortunate who is set up to be knocked down, and then has to foot the bills! Poor Mr. Packer!

GOOD BEGINNING.—Treasury officials anticipate a reduction of $9,000,000 in the total of the public dept during the current month. If this expectation is realized the debt will have diminished $43,000,000 since the fourth of last March. A good beginning certainly. Bully for Grant.

THE Democratic party, says the Huntingdon Globe, while it pretends to honor the soldier, takes up for its leader, a man who coldly turned his back upon his country, in her darkest hours, and sought escape from the obligations of patriotism in a luxurious tour to Europe.

The last report upon the laydelegation question in the Methodist Church gives an aggregate vote of 187,605, of which 78,536 are affirmative and 29,071 negative, a majority of nearly 50,000 for lay participation.

WITH ALL his immense wealth, can Asa Packer point to a single libera gift made by him in behalf of his imperiled country during the late war? No wonder he is a favorite with rebel Democracy.

"Packer made his money by buying coal lands cheap and then waiting for advancement. He can lose it by buying nominations dear and waiting for election."

Do we object to Packer because he is rich? Not by any means. We object to him because he would never have been nominated had he not been rich.

Kentucky is rapidly approaching the verge of civilization. About twenty Union men have been elected to the Legislature.

H. P. CADWALLADER, of Potter.

FOR PROTHONOTARY,

SAMUEL L. BARR, of Bellefonte,

FOR REGISTER AND CLERK,

WILLIAM CURTIN, of Boggs.

FOR RECORDER,

DANIEL C. ROTE, of Haines.

FOR COMMISSIONER,

LEWIS HESS, of Rush.

FOR AUDITOR,

BENJAMIN F. LIGGETT, of Liberty.

FOR CORONER,

Dr. WILLIAM F. REIBER, of Ferguson.

ADVERTISING.—The BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN has a larger circulation than any other Republican paper published in the county. Our merchants and business men will please make a note of this.

GET UP CLUBS.—We hope that our friends in each of the townships will go to work to secure us a list of subscribers for the campaign. The price of the Republican for three Months is ——50 cts. Every memberof the party should subscribe for it. We appeal to Post Masters and others to get up clubs for the Republican.

RATIFICATION MEETING.—We are authorized by JNO. T. JOHNSON, Esq., Chairman of the county Committee, to say that there will be a Ratification meeting of the Union Republican party, at the Court House, on Wednesday evening, 25th inst. The meeting will be addressed by Hon. H. B. SWOOPE, and other distinguished speakers. Let the friends of the Union and Liberty cause be in their strength. Our cause is a good one. Let us have a meeting worthy the ticket. Success is certain if we but do our duty.

OUR TICKET.

The Union Republican Convention, which assembled in the Court House, on the 11th inst., placed in nomination a ticket of good and true men—a ticket that does honor to the convention that selected it, and to the Republican party which it represents.—For assembly, we have of Aaronsburg. Mr. COBURN is an educated man, possessing first-class business talent. He is qualified, in every particular, to represent Centre county in the Legislature. Mr. Coburn is exceedingly popular at home, having, by repeated acts of kindness, gained the esteem of his neighbors, of all political parties. He will be elected.

JAMES P. COBURN,

The next candidate we will notice is placed in nomination by the convention, as the Union Republican candidate for the office of High Sheriff of Centre county. Who does not know JERRY BUTTS? No cleverer man ever lived in Bellefonte. No better, or more popular man, ever run for the office of Sheriff in this county. JERRY cannot be whipped. He will, of course, be elected by a handsome majority. This, we think, is a fixed fact.

J. B. BUTTS,

For Prothonotary, the convention nominated, by acclamation, of Bellefonte. Mr. BARR is a native of Ferguson tp., but resided in Spring tp. at the breaking out of the rebellion, when he enlisted in the service of his country. He lost an arm in the service, and is, therefore, a crippled soldier. He is an excellent scholar, speaks the German and English language fluently, and is just the man to fill the office of Prothonotary for the next three years. His election is a foregone conclusion.

SAMUEL L. BARR,

For Register and Clerk of the Orphan's Court, we have

of Boggs tp. Mr. CURTIN is a farmer by occupation, is a splendid penman, a good scholar, and speaks the German language well. This gives him an advantage over his competitor which our German friends should not forget. Our Democratic friends claim that the present incumbent, J. P. GEPHART, has made one of the best officers this county ever had. We assure our friends, as well as the Democrats, that Mr. CURTIN is equally qualified, and will make as good an officer, in every respect. Of course his election is sure.

For Recorder of Deeds the Convention nominated of Haines tp. Mr. ROTE is a highly educated man, both in German and English. Speaks both languages fluently, writes a first-rate, legible hand, and is, therefore, just the man to fill the office of Recorder.

DANIEL C. ROTE,

When our German friends in Pennsvalley wish to visit the Recorder's office they can meet Mr. ROTE, and converse with him in their own language. This will be exceedingly pleasant. Pennsvalley will tell a big story in favor of Mr. ROTE, on the 2d Tuesday of October next. His election is sure.

For Treasurer, the convention placed in nomination of Potter tp., that prince of good fellows, and popular man. Everybody likes RASH; everybody knows that he is abudantly qualified to fill the office for which he is selected; and, if elected, of which there can be no doubt, he will guard the Treasury against any WOLF, or wolves, that might prowl around that neighborhood. Is it too much to say that his majority will reach 500 votes? Wolf skins will certainly be cheap after the election.

The convention placed in nomination for Commissioner of Rush tp. Mr. HESS is well and favorably known all over the county. He is a hardworking, honest and energetic man. Is well qualified to fill the office of Commissioner, and if the taxpayers of Centre consult their own interests, LEWIS HESS will be elected by a triumphant majority.

For Auditor, we have our staunch and unwavering Republican friend of Liberty tp. Mr. LIGGET is a good accountant, a prosperous and thrifty farmer and business man, and is just the man to assist in auditing the county accounts at the next settlement. He will be at the next settlement, sure.—The people have so determined it.—Good for BEN.

BENJAMIN F. LIGGET,

For Coroner, the convention gave us that most excellent Physician, and good man, of Ferguson tp. The Doctor is well known all over Centre county. He is just the man for the office, and the people—the good people—the christian people—the masses of the people in Centre county have determined that Dr. REIBER shall hold all the Coroner's inquests for the next three years. and that the whole Union Republican ticket shall be elected. We are really glad that the people have determined that the Court House ring shall be cleaned out.

DR. WM. F. REIBER,

Confesses Its Error.

The Democratic Convention, on the 10th inst., by placing in nomination three soldiers, and ignoring the claims of their Democratic competitors, fairly admits that copperheadism is a delusion and a disgrace; that the course persued by the party during the war was disgraceful and wrong; that the MCCLELLAN platform of 1864 was wrong, and a base libel upon the soldiers and the Republican party: that the SEYMOUR and BLAIR platform of last year was a humbug, a cheat and a snare, and that those who were green enough, or ignorant enough to adhere to and vote for it were badly sold. The State Convention refused to nominate Gen. HANCOCK because he was a good Union soldier, and his nomination wo'd give the lie to all they had said against the war. In Centre county the nomination of soldiers proves the same thing. This is good logic. It cannot be contradicted.

Since 1865 down to the present time, the Republican party have placed in nomination good and true soldiers—soldiers whose record was the very best—soldiers, who had borne the brunt of many a battle, and gave an arm or a leg for the cause in which they fought; but the Democrats, or Copperheads, of Centre refused to vote for one of them. In preference to Maj. CHEESMAN, a one legged soldier, they voted for J. D. SHUGERT, an able-bodied stay-at-home Democrat. In preference to Lieut. H. H. BENNER, a crippled soldier, they voted for J. H. LIPTON, an able-bodied stay-at home Democrat. In preference to Mr. WHIPPO, a private soldier, nominated by the Republican party for Sheriff, three years ago, they voted for D. Z. KLINE, an able-bodied stay-at-home Democrat.—Every Democrat you would meet and ask to support one of these soldiers nominated by the Republican party would answer you in this language:—"The soldiers got paid for all they did, and well paid, and the wounded soldier now receives a good pension for the loss of his arm or leg."

This was Democratic love and sympathy for the soldier from 1865 down to the present time. It was such sympathy as the wolf gave the lamb, and should have driven every honorable, honest, intelligent soldier out of the rotten, corrupt and disloyal party.

The Democratic party have no claims upon the soldier, and in our opinion, the soldier that accepts a nomination at the hands of that party has no claims upon the suffrages of his fellow comrades. Suppose Gen. GEO. WASHINGTON had, after the Revolutionary struggle, deserted the loyal cause and gone over to the TORIES, would the loyal men of his day been justifiable in electing him President of the United States?

The Republican party has now placed in nomination SAMUEL L. BARR, Esq., a one-armed soldier, in opposition to JOHN MORAN, an able-bodied stay-at-home Democrat. How, we ask, can any Democrat, with the new turn his party has taken, claim to be consistent, and vote in favor of JOHN MORAN and against SAM'L. L. BARR? How can any soldier vote for JNO. MORAN?

How can Democrats vote for ASA PACKER, a free-trade nabob and millionaire, and against that brave and noble soldier Gen. JOHN W. GEARY?—Democrats, how can you do it? By nominating soldiers you admit the war was right. Your party has turned its coat.

Let the Democratic party deny its principles and change its coat; but we hope all true soldiers will stand by their old flag and vote as they shot.

Democratic Convention.

The so called Democratic Convention assembled in the Court House, on Tuesday, 10th inst., and placed in nomination the following ticket:

For Assembly—JACOB. G. MEYER.
For Prothonotary—JOHN MORAN.
For Reg. and Clk—JNO. H. MORRISON.
For Recorder—ISREAL GRENOBLE.
For Sheriff—DAN'L W. WOODRING.
For Treasurer—SIMON S. WOLF.
For Commissioner—JOS. MCCLOSKEY.
For Coroner—J. FUREY LARIMORE.
For Auditor—D. H. YEAGER.

Reader, the above is the ticket placed in nomination by the "Court House Ring." Look at it. Think about it. Read it over several times. Analyze it carefully.

"Black spirits and white,
Blue spirits and gray;
Mingle, mingle, mingle,
You that mingle may."

Yes, mingle if you can, Democrats of Centre county; but one thing is certain, if you have any principle, or any consistency, you cannot support the ticket. Why? Because it does not represent the principles you have been taught to believe were truly Democratic. To support this ticket makes turn-coats of every one of you without leaving your party. Do you ask how? The answer is easy. When the war for the Union was inaugurated, your leaders, the Democratic Watchman, and all the Democratic papers in the State and Nation took sides against the war—declared that the Government had no right to coerce the South. President BUCHANAN so declared in his message to Congress, and the smaller lights everywhere adopted it as the true Democratic doctrine. The result was, that to be a good Democrat you must be opposed to the war. In this county, P. G. MEEK proclaimed the doctrine that the South was right in rebelling against the Government—that the rebels were fighting for their rights, their firesides and their homes, and at the same time declared that the Union army was composed of "Northern hordes," "Lincoln hirelings," "thieves" and "cut throats." These were a few of the choice epithets applied to Union soldiers—the noble "Boys in Blue"—not only by P. G. MEEK, but by all the leading Democratic journals in the North. The true test of Democracy was opposition to the "Abolition war," and every Democrat who enlisted as a private, or entered the field as an officer, did it at the expense of his standing as a Democrat. He was read out of the party, pronounced an abolitionist and a "LINCOLN hireling."

The rank-and-file of the Democratic party were led to believe these doctrines, and to show their faith by their works, voted twice for P. G. MEEK, the meanest copperhead in the State, to represent them in the State Legislature. In doing this, the copperheads of Centre county could claim the virtue of consistency.

But how is it now? The Watchman says: "among the nominees are three soldiers, viz: WOLF, WOODRING and GRENOBLE." It further says:—"The Convention did its part, and did it nobly, too, in placing them in nomination." MEEK would not say this himself, he could not consistently write it, but permits the Associate Editor to do so.

It gives the lie to all MEEK said against the soldiers during the war. It holds up to the world, in all its black and damning character, the record he made for himself and party during the war, and shows what tools some people are, and what tools (spelled with an "f") some people suffer themselves to become.

Men like B. F. BROWN, SAML. HERRING, and others who endorsed the copperhead, or anti-war teachings of the Watchman, and who worked night and day for the success of what they were taught to believe true Democracy, are now thrown overboard, or compelled to stand aside because their record is too copperish, and soldiers—"LINCOLN hirelings"—nominated in their stead. In 1864, to vote for MCCLELLAN was simon pure Democracy. In 1869, the men who voted for MCCLELLAN must make way for those who voted for ABRAHAM LINCOLN in 1864.

In 1864 the Democratic platform declared the war a "failure," and its results nothing but "debt, slaughter and disgrace." In 1869 they give the direct LIE to all this, cast overboard the men who believed it, worked for it, and gloried in the name copperhead, to make room for men who voted against it, against MCCLELLAN, and who aided in putting down the "Abolition war."

What is the conclusion of the whole matter? There can be but two sides to the question. Either the war was right and the Democratic party woefully, wickedly and wilfully wrong, or it was wrong and the Democratic party right. The Convention on the 10th inst., proves the first proposition to be true, to wit: that the war was right, and the Democratic party woefully, wickedly and wilfully wrong, by placing three soldiers—"LINCOLN hirelings"—upon their ticket.

Can any person point out to us the honesty, or consistency of the "Court House Ring?" Can any Democrat or member of the "Ring" tell us how the soldiers upon the Democratic ticket can remain there and claim to be consistent? It will not answer to say that the Democratic party has come to them. In our opinion they have gotten into bad company, have failed to "vote as they shot," and do not deserve the sympathies of their comrades in arms. They have changed, or the Democratic party has changed. If the party has changed then, no member of that party is bound to support the ticket.

If these soldiers have changed, they do not deserve the support either of their comrades or the men who stood by the Government in 1864.

The Two Candidates.

Nearly a generation ago, General John W. Geary and Asa Packer, were both Democrats. The Democratic party embroiled the country in the Mexican war, that additional territory might be secured for slavery. Packer, a cold, scheming, money-getting man, supported the war for that reason. Geary, young, brave, enthusiastic, and patriotic, led his command against a hostile army without inquiring into aims and motives of the war. It was enough for him to know that his country was waging war, and like a soldier, he inquired very little beyond the fact that the flag should be upheld. Years after, when slavery demanded that Kansas should have the accursed institution forced upon her against her will, Packer favored the execrable project, while Geary sent out as Governor, did his best to thwart the villainy. Afterwards, when the shock, engendered by the Kansas-Nebraska iniquity, was about to tear tha Nation, Packer sympathized with secession while Geary again drew his sword against that heresy and crime. Geary held our country to be a nation with the right and power to defend its life: Packer, insisted that it was a rope of sand, and that "coercion" was treason. Geary believed that South Carolina committed treason by firing upon the American flag; Packer that Massachusetts committed treason by being in favor of liberty. While Geary was drilling his regiment for the field, Packer was whining about "making war on our Southern brethern." When Geary was driven back defeated, and reinforcements were demanded, Packer was hand-in-glove with the Copperheads in preventing enlistments. When volunteering was well nigh stopped by Packer and his party, and Geary was in sore need of men, the party who now honor Packer, and their candidates were doing all they could to obstruct the draft, even to the shooting of Provost Marshals. All through that bloody period Geary was supporting his country with blood; Packer was doing everything to thwart and defeat her.

And now that the fearful conflict has passed, the difference between these two men and their supporters remains, and these two have become representatives of the policy and the principles now animating their followers. Geary insists that the party which saved the Republic should rule; Packer, that those who endeavored to destroy the Government, encouraged the Rebellion, resisted the drafts, and denounced our soldiers, are the fittest to govern. Geary and his party demand that the fruits of the blood bought victory over Slavery and Treason should be secured for posterity; Packer and his party, that they should be abandoned and Rebels restored to power Geary, who preferred to serve his country instead of devoting his time to amassing wealth, insists that the national debt contracted to carry on the war against Treason shall be paid in good faith; Packer, who instead of serving the country, devoted all his efforts to amassing a colossal fortune, affiliates with those who could repudiate this debt and beggar countless widows and orphans, and dishonor the nation. Both have been earnest and consistent in their aims and purposes, and between them the people of Penn'a must choose. On that choice rests the future welfare of the State, and we do not doubt the Republicans of Pennsylvania are prepared to accept the issue again presented by the Democratic party in the nomination of an anti-War, Peace at-any-price candidate for Governor, and affirm their continued adhesion to the cause that saved the country.

The October Elections.

We invite attention of the press and people of the State, without distinction of party, to the recent radical changes in the election laws. The Legislature, at its last session, passed an act entitled "An act further suplemental to the act relative to the elections of this Commonwealth," and it was approved by the Governor on the 17th day of April last. The fifteenth section of this act abolished all spring elections, and required all elections hereafter to be held on the second Tuesday of October. That no misapprehension may exist we here give said section in full, as follows:

"SECTION 15. All elections for city, ward, borough, township and election officers shall hereafter be held on the second Tuesday of October, subject to all the provisions of the laws regulating the election of such officers not inconsistent with this act; the persons elected to such offices at that time shall take their places at the expiration of the terms of the persons holding the same at the time of such election; but no election for the office of assessor or assistant assessor shall be held under this act, until the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy."

Hence, in our judgment it is the plain duty of the people at the next October election, to elect all the city, ward, borough, township and election officers (except assessors), which wo'd have been chosen at the spring election of 1870, had the said act of 17th of April, 1869, not been passed.

We regard this as a matter of great public importance, and take this method of inviting public attention to it, hoping our cotemporaries will aid us in disseminating all needful information on the subject.—Tel.

REPUBLICANS, ATTENTION!—There will be a meeting of the Union Republicans of Bellefonte, in their Club Room, on Saturday evening at 7½ o'clock. We hope there will be a full attendance. We have work to do.—Let us resolve to do it.

Packer and his Taxes.

Carbon county and the borough of Mauch Chunk, during the recent war, contracted a large debt for bounty to those who went into the army. Honorably to meet this debt it became necessary to raise money by taxation. They assessed Asa Packer with one, million of dollars railroad stock, when in fact he owned about four millions. Packer, like other residents of Mauch Chunk, paid his taxes the first year but to evade future payment gave out that he had changed his residence to the city of Philadelphia. The alleged change not being apparent to any one but himself, (he and his family still continuing to occupy the spacious mansion in Mauch Chunk as before), the proper authorities again assessed upon him the usual taxes as on all other residents of the borough. He refused payment, again protesting that his residence was at the Merchants' Hotel Philadelphia, and the result was the amount had to be recovered from him by suit at law, and ever since then the authorities of Mauch Chunk, with most wonderful kindness and magnanimity, have permitted the poor man to repudiate the payment of his share of the patriotic bounty taxes, and required the rich men of the town to pay their own share and Mr. Packer's also; and all this on the pitiful plea that he had changed his residence. The fact is, he has opened a coal and railroad office in Phil'a, but there stands his elegant family residence, in Mauch Chunk, occupied by himself and family year after year, as it has always been. Is not this a miserable subterfuge, unworthy any honest man? and much more a man who aspires to the high and honorable places in the country? Let him set an example of which honorable men will not be ashamed; and let him pay his share of the taxes, due the soldier, his widow, and his orphan, before he asks their votes or their influence to elevate him over them as their ruler.

Can Packer be Elected?

We think not. Upon what do the Democracy base their hope of his election? there is not a single act of his life public or private, to which they can refer to distinguish him from the other millionaire nabobs of the day. It is the amount of money he is pledged to furnish they look to for success, and not the virtues of their candidate.—They mean to come into the political market as buyers, and if there is dirty material enough to be purchased they are not going to higgle about the price. Pretty soon we shall see, in every nook and corner of the country, the brawlers to whom the party funds have been committed for disbursement, using their best efforts to corrupt voters and carry the election by bribery and fraud. But the scandalous attempt will fail. The man with no claims upon the people but such as arise from his wealth, will find, after the election, that the people are not yet corrupted enough to be bought and driven to the polls as sheep to the shambles. The solid claims upon public gratitude and support which Governor Geary has as a soldier and civilian will outweigh all the money bags of Packer, and he will be reelected by a larger majority than that by which he was chosen three years ago. Mark what we say.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

THE REPUDIATORS.—The nomination of Repudiation Pendleton in Ohio reveals the meaning of Rosecrans' oracular utterance about his family and creditors. He was evidently afraid his salary would not be paid.

If Rosecrans showed so much caution that he would not trust the Democracy, even bearing gifts, would it not be prudent for all holders of national currency or United States bonds to vote against Pendleton, or any other Democratic candidate?

A corollary reflection for Pennsylvania! It is not known that Asa Packer holds a single United States security. Certain it is that he did not lend the Government a dollar in its extremity. Will not all his influence in case of his election be thrown as a matter of course against the Government bonds and credit? Now, when Grant is straining every nerve to pay off the great debt, we should not throw a straw in his way.

WHO IS PERSHING?—This question is answered by the Somerset Herald and Whig. That journal says: "Pershing is a third or fourth-rate country lawyer, enjoying a plodding business as scribener and general country counsel. He has never, unassisted, tried a dozen cases in that many years of practice, and we doubt much if his voice has ever been heard at the bar of the Court on whose bench he aspires to sit. His public career has been confined to a few years of service in the lower House of our State Legislature, where he made a political reputation so extensive that one half his party journals in the State do not even know how to spell his name."

MONEY! MONEY!—Court commences on Monday the 23rd inst. Many of our subscribers will be in town.—Gentlemen, we wish to see you each, and every one, in our sanctum. If you have paid in advance, you have our thanks; if you have not yet paid, we know that you do not feel comfortable, and wish to do so at your earliest convenience, Court week will afford you the opportunity. It would be a great relief to us, if all those who have not paid, would do so during this month. But, money or no money, friends, call and see us. We want to see your pleasant faces in our office.

GENERAL ROSECRANS has declined the nomination for Governor of Ohio, and telegraphed Hon. A. G. Thurman, for the Democratic Committee as follows: "After the war I resigned a very desirable position in the army and left my State to secure at least the possibility of fulfilling duties deemed sacred to my creditors and family. These duties forbid me the honor of leading the Democracy of Ohio in the pending campaign for Governor."

The country is Gen. Rosecrans' heaviest creditor, and we are inclined to think he realizes his obligation.

GRANT's cleanly habits in bathing at Long Branch is subject for ridicule on the part of Democrats. The reason is obviously plain. There is no Democratic precedent for bathing on record.

"GRANDFATHERS' STOVE."
Our grandfather's stove, what a fun y old thing,
So deep, so wide and so tall:
Now the people would say, who are stylish and gay,
"It was only a hole in the wall."
It matters not what, it was pleasant to see
When night's mantle was flung over all;
Grandfather take down his good book and read
By the light from the hole in the wall.
As the sturdy young men rolled in the great logs,
They would laugh at each wintry squall,
Whilst grandma would sit on her old chair and knit
By the light from the whole in the wall.
The girls then were home spun, and so did their beaux's,
For pride was a principle small;
And courting was done and hearts have been won
By the light from the hole in the wall.
The neighbors were friendly wherever they'd meet,
With a word of true kindness for all;
And joy was complete to hear voices so sweet
Ring round that old hole in the wall.
In those days we know, folks cared not for show,
Of improvements knew nothing at all;
But 'twas really no joke, when great clouds of smoke
Rushed out from the hole in the wall.
But those days are now o'er, we shall know them no more,
And all those old fashions have flown;
Whilst the solemn and gay are coming each day
To purchase the famous "OLD HOME."
Coming not only in couples, but in scores, as hundreds of good and wise men and women have done before, to look upon this magnificent stove, which is acknowledged to be the best cooking stove of the age. Remember the place,

SAVE MONEY.—If you want posters, circulars, bill heads, cards, paper-books, first-class job work, plain or fancy, call at the REPUBLICAN office. All work done at Philadelphia prices.

BELLEFONTE AND PINE GROVE STAGE LINE.—Leave Pine Grove at 6:00 a. m., arrive at Bellefonte at 10:00 a. m; leave Bellefonte at 2:00 p. m., for Agricultural College and Pine Grove Mills, daily, except Sunday.

JAMES KREPS,
Proprietor.

SANDS' BAKERY.—It is with pleasure we direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of J. S. Sands in another column of the REPUBLICAN. Mr. Sands has a first-class Confectionery and Ice Cream Saloon in connection with his Bakery. He is a clever man, and takes pleasure in accommodating his customers.

GEARY OATS.—On Saturday last, Mr. Noah Musser showed us a stock of oats, raised by him; which measured 7 feet and 1 inch, and contained 223 perfect grains. General Geary will beat Asa Packer next October, just as badly as Mr. Musser has beaten Daniel Houser's Packer oats, reported in last week's Watchman.

THE Turnpike contest in Pennsvalley terminated, for the present, on the 7th inst., by the opponents of the present Board removing the goods and chattels of their toll-keeper, near Spring Mills, from the house which the company had previously sold, on the condition that it be removed within a certain time. This toll-gate will be entirely abolished, and not again established while the road remains under the present management. The road is the best in this section of the State, and seems to be prospering in every respect.

BE CAREFUL.—Cooling off suddenly when overheated sends many of our youth to an early tomb. It is often a matter of surprise that so many farmers' boys and girls die of consumption. It is thought that abundant exercise in the open air is directly opposed to that disease. So it is, but judgment and knowledge of the laws of health are essential to the preservation of health under any circumstances. When overheated, cool off slowly—never in a strong draught of air. Gentle fanning, especially if the face is wet with cold water, will soon produce a delightful coolness, which leaves no disagreeable results.

READER, THINK OF IT.—An exchange aptly and truthfully says of local papers, that they enhance the value of property; they benefit particularly merchants and real estate owners thrice the amount yearly they pay for the support. There is nothing that would do a place more harm than to be without a newspaper. This every sensible man knows. A local paper then, is a necessity. It is a sacred duty to support your local paper. You need not think that the publisher of a paper can run it for your benefit and pay the expenses out of his own pocket. Give your home paper good advertising patronage, and a respectable list, and you will then have just such a paper as you wish.

CAMP MEETING.—The camp-meeting of the Milesburg Circuit will commence on Thursday, the 19th inst., on the farm belonging to the heirs of Wm. A. Thomas, dec'd. The camp-ground is about one mile from Milesburg. Twenty-two tents are already on the ground, and preparations are being made for a good time.—Mr. Kitchen, who lives near the ground, has opened a boarding house for the accommodation of strangers. Rev. E. Butler is preacher in charge. He is, emphatically, the war-horse of Methodism, having been in the itinerancy for over 40 years. It is thought that Bishop Simpson will be present on Sunday. We hope that our Methodist friends may have a good meeting—a glorious outpouring of the Spirit, and that they may count their converts by the hundred.

FASHIONS.—We like fashions; and the more ridiculous the fashion, the better we like it. For instance, we like to see a man with a bloated body and spindle shanks, dressed in tight pants; it sets off his appearance, and exhibits his proportions to better advantage. We like, too, to see a tall man wear a high hat; it gives him such a majestic appearance.—We like to see a young man part his hair in the middle; it tells, precisely, what he is. We go into extacies of delight at the sight of a chignon—the larger the better—stuck out at the back of a lady's head. We think the weight of the chignon has a tendency to hold the head back, thereby counteracting the inclination, too frequently indulged in, of inclining forward, and becoming "stoop-shouldered." Chignons are conducive to health. We like to see a jaunty little hat tastfully resting, at an angle of ninety degrees, on the brow of a pretty girl; it is so becoming. What can be more lovely than a two-bit revenue stamp, tastily trimmed with ribbon and artificials, serenely reposing in the valley between the head and chignon, and a green baize veil carelessly thrown over the whole? We are fashionable—very—ourselves, and appreciate it in others; in fact, we don't like any body who is not. So intensely are we devoted to the godess of fashion, that the very sight of a Grecian bend would likely cause us our life—we would go off in laughing convulsions. We are of but little use anyhow; won't some of you try the experiment, and show us the Grecian bend? We'll go one eye on it.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.—The Delegates to the Republican County Convention assembled at the Court House, on Wednesday, the 11th inst., and were duly called to order by Wm. P. Wilson, Chairman of the ex-Committee of the county. On motion, the Convention organized by electing R. H. Duncan, Esq., Chairman, and Messrs. Geo. D. Pifer and B. O. Deininger, Secretaries. On motion, it was voted to proceed to the receiving of credentials and the forming of lists of delegates. The roll of delegates being complete—on motion, the convention proceeded to the nomination of candidates for the several offices to be filled at the October election.

For Representative in the General Assembly of the Commonwealth, the following names were proposed:—Jas. P. Coburn, Haines; F. Jodon, Spring; J. C. Williams, Philipsburg; Col. R. McFarlane, Harris. Col. McFarlane withdrew his name, for the reason that he expected the ticket to succeed, and preferred a different Representative than himself.—He said if defeat were certain, he was just as willing to be beaten in a good cause as anybody else, but it would not suit him to be elected at this time. He was confident that the ticket would win this year. A ballot being ordered, resulted as follows:

Coburn	45
Jodon	7
Williams	9

Coburn's nomination was then made unanimous.

For Prothonotary, Lt. Samuel L Barr, of Bellefonte, was put in nomination, and was, on motion, made our candidate by acclamation, amidst great applause.

For Register and Clerk of Orphan's Court, Jeremiah Haines, Miles; Wm. Curtin, Boggs; Caleb E. Way, Huston, were put in nomination. The ballot resulted as follows:

Haines	20
Curtin	42
Way	2

Mr. Curtin's nomination was then made unanimous, when the convention proceeded to nominate for Recorder of deeds. Messrs. Haines, of Miles, Lucas, of Howard and Daniel C. Rote, of Haines, were put in nomination.

Mr. Lucas withdrew his name, and after some discussion, a ballot was ordered, and resulted as follows:

Haines	16
Rote	50

The nomination of Mr. Rote was then made unanimous.

The next business being a nomination for Sheriff, the following names were put before the convention:—J. B Butts, Bellefonte; J. G Kurtz, Bellefonte; Dan'l P. Shope, Milesburg; Geo. Swartz, Walker; James Dunlap, Ferguson. Messrs. Swartz and Dunlap having been withdrawn, a ballot was ordered, and resulted as follows:

Butts	57
Kurtz	6
Shope	3

Whereupon the nomination of Mr. Butts was made unanimous.

For Treasurer, the following names were submitted:—H. P. Cadwallader, Potter; Jos. E. Mitchell, Benner; Rob't Kendall, Benner. Mr. Mitchell withdrew, and a ballot had, which resulted as follows:

Cadwallader	53
Kendall	12

when the nomination of H. P. Cadwallader was made unanimous.

For Commissioner, there were named the following gentlemen:—Lewis Hess, Rush; John L. Musser, Ferguson; S. H. Stover, Harris, D. B. Malone, Boggs.

1st BALLOT.

Hess	14
Musser	17
Stover	9
Malone	26

Mr. Stover's name was then withdrawn.

2nd BALLOT.

Hess	26
Musser	15
Malone	26

3rd BALLOT.

Hess	11
Musser	31
Malone	24

Mr. Malone's name was then withdrawn.

4th BALLOT.

Hess	38
Musser	28

whereupon Hess' nomination was made unanimous.

Benjamin F. Liggett, of Liberty tp., was then nominated for Auditor, by acclamation, the names of J. R. Shaver and William Singer, having been withdrawn.

For Coroner, the names of Dr. Wm. F. Reiber, Ferguson, and Dr. Geo. F. Harris, Bellefonte, were put forward, when a ballot was ordered, and resulted as follows:

Reiber	29
Harris	28

whereupon the convention made the nomination of Dr. Reiber unanimous.

The following resolution was then offered.

Resolved, That the several boroughs and townships in the county of Centre, be hereafter entitled to a representation of two delegates in the Republican County Convention, and one additional delegate for every fifty Republican votes above the first fifty polled at the general election preceeding the County Convention.

After some discussion, the resolution was laid on the table.

On motion, the Chairman was authorized to appoint a Chairman of the County Committee, and the several township delegations to select their members for said Committee.

On motion, the convention adjourned.

R. H. DUNCAN, Pres't.
GEO. D. PIFER, B. O. DEININGER, } Sec'ys.

BOOKS! BOOKS!—Knowledge is power; and the good Book says, that "a man's wisdom maketh his face to shine." If our young men and maiden's wish to be powerful—and if they wish their faces to shine with a lustre superior to anything that can be done by rouge or paint—let them go, at once, and supply themselves with books from the well selected stock kept by Jacob D. Miller, in the Post-office building, Allegheny street, Bellefonte, Pa. Mr. Miller is a young man of great energy, and deserves the patronage of the reading community.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A stranger by the name of John McHenry, supposed to be from Luthersburg, Clearfield county, was killed near the station at Milesburg, on Saturday night last, by being run over by the passenger train, on its way back to Milesburg junction, from this place. As the engine is, of necessity, backed down, the engineer had no means of discovering the man, who was either crossing the track, or had laid down on it.—The man had been drinking all day.—An inquest was held, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts. He is said to have been employed lately at Beaver Mills, in this county.

BARGAINS.—We direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Emil Joseph, Allegheny street, Bellefonte, Pa. This gentleman has a large supply of every thing usually kept in a dry-goods store, besides a splendid assortment of watches, Jewelry, &c. Repairing done in the best style, and on the shortest notice. He has recently secured the services of our young friend, Frank Blair, whose reputation as an engraver, is an enviable one, indeed. We have seen several specimens of Frank's work, and we are satisfied that, as an engraver, he cannot be excelled outside the cities. Mr. Joseph understands his business; keeps only the best of goods, and employs none but the best of workmen.

NOW FOR THE RAILROAD.—We direct the attention of our readers to the following call, which we copy from the Lewisburg Chronicle. We hope the citizens of Pennsvalley, and of Centre county, (for we are all interested,) will see the necessity of giving proper heed to the requirements of the call. Let every land owner and farmer in Pennsvalley be at the meeting. Let the capitalists and business men of Bellefonte be there to assist, "either by personal influence, or material aid, the cause which is so deserving of complete success:"

Grand Rally of Railroad Men.

All interested in the extension of the Lewisburg, Centre & Spruce Creek Railroad, are invited to meet in MILLHEIM, FRIDAY, Aug. 27th, at 1 o'clock, p. m.

The Committee, appointed at a meeting of the people, in Millheim, in May last, to confer with the "Penn'a or other Railroad companies, on the subject of aid in the construction of our road," is prepared to make a favorable report.

The object of the meeting is, to take into consideration the aid promised by the Penn'a Railroad Co., and, if that is deemed satisfactory, to take steps for an immediate and active canvas for subscriptions.

For the first time in the long agitation of our Railroad question, have we the profer of aid from a substantial and reliable source.

The construction of the road is now within our reach; it is for the people to say whether it shall be built. Let every neighborhood, along the line, be fully represented. This meeting will doubtless decide the success or failure of the railroad enterprise, and is, therefore, of such importance as to demand attendance on the part of all interested.

ELI SLIFER, Chirman of Com.

For the Republican.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Would you like to hear from the strong hold of Republicanism in Centre county. Would you like to hear from a truly loyal and patriotic township? Would you like to hear from the township that, every man in it, save two, subject to military duty, either enlisted, or was drafted into the service of the United States during the rebellion; and not only so, but many enlisted that were under, and some that were over the age prescribed by the military laws? In a word; do you want to hear from Huston township? I am aware that Huston township is in the much despised Bald Eagle Valley, and that we are stigmatized as Bald Eagle Valley buckwheats, but we care not for the name; we claim to be a truly loyal and patriotic people; not for the sake of office, but from principle; and we can just trot out from our mountains and hill as large a percentage of Republican votes as any township in the county. Yet, notwithstanding all this, we have never been honored with a nomination inside our borders, for any county office, whatever. We have tried several times, but always have been beaten, and retained in the party as hewers of wood and drawers of water. It may be all right. Perhaps it is better not to have any of our citizens set up as a public mark for every "mules's daddy" to kick at. We intend to vote solid for Geary in October; but, unless the Court will come to our assistance, we must do it under very disadvantageous circumstances, from the fact that the laws compell us to hold our elections in a hen-coop; i. e, it was a hen-coop at the last election, but has since been converted into a "boar's nest." You will, doubtless, think this a fabrication; but, I assure you, it is true. Imagine the white freemen of Huston tp. marching, by scores, to the polls, and offering their ballot through a crevice in the wall of a hencoop; then imagine 7 o'cl'k p. m., of election day; the constable has proclaimed the election closed; the election officers are inside of a hen-coop, seated on trestles, around an old workbench; a small tallow dip is flickering in the breeze, which has access through the crevices at every point. The coop is full of smoke from an old, dilapidated stove, that looks as though it had passed thro' the revolutionary war. The officer's eyes are red and swollen, whilst the big tears are rolling down their devoted cheeks, large as apple-dumplings. Overhead roosts a score, or more, of chickens, and now and again a drop of digested corn falls on their papers. Do you wonder that our returns are badly written, and badly soiled? Four times have we petitioned, praying that our elections might be removed from this chicken-cursed pen. Four times our prayers have been unanswered. A fifth petition is now in circulation, praying the Court, for God's sake, and for the sake of poor, down-trodden humanity, good morals and common decency, to appoint a place to hold our next election, so that we may not again be compelled to hold it in that infernal "boar's-nest." Will they do it? If not, then may dogs bark, owls hoot, snakes hiss and frogs croak at them; may musquitoes bite, fleas tickle, hornets sting and grasshoppers kick them. So mote it be.

LOCUST.

CHURCH DEDICATION.—The M. E. Church at Port Matilda, will be dedicated to the worship of God, on Sunday, August 29th. The services will be conducted by Bishop Scott. A general attendance is earnestly requested.

ENTERPRISE.—Shortlidge & Co. have just finished a Railroad from the main track to their lime-kiln, on the opposite side of the creek. It is a good job, denotes energy and enterprise, and will save hundreds of dollars per annum to the company in the shipment of lime.

WE are informed that the quiet little town of Central City was recently the scene of a most desperate and disgraceful conflict between two females, in which pulling hair, swearing and scratching were indulged in to an alarming extent. Is it so, that in this christian land, females, who should beautify and adorn society, will so far forget their dignity, as to condescend to such low and disgraceful acts. Shame, forever shame!

RETRENCHMENT.—Reduction of number of U. S. Revenue Assessors.—This county has been re-organized, and, instead of four, has but two Divisions. James H. Rankin, Bellefonte, has received the appointment of Assistant Assessor of 1st Division, composed of the following townships and boroughs:—Liberty, Howard, Marion, Walker, Curtin, Boggs, Spring, Benner, Snow Shoe, Burnside, Union, Huston, Worth, Taylor, Rush, and Bellefonte, Milesburg, Unionville and Philipsburg.

A. J. Young, Spring Mills, As't Assessor of 2nd Division, composed of Haines, Miles, Penn, Gregg, Potter, Harris, Ferguson, Half Moon and Patton.

Applications for license can be made to either of these gentlemen, without regard to locality.

A CHURCH FAIR.—A fair is always an occasion of interest to the community in which it is held, if properly conducted, as it affords pleasure to the young, and offers to many the opportunity of purchasing objects of taste and luxury, not otherwise to be had. The ladies of St. John's Episcopal Church, of this place, give notice that they will hold a sale of fancy and useful articles, and also of ice cream, cakes and other refreshments, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next, at Garman's new building, near the Court House.

This fair is gotten up by its projecters to assist in raising funds to pay for their handsome new church, now in course of erection. They have been, for some time past, engaged in their preparations for it, and expect to make it, in every way, worthy of liberal patronage.

DR. SAGE & Co.

Gents—I am always reluctant to say any thing in favor of patent medicines, but I have found your Catarrh Remedy such an effectual soother in those annoying attacks which we term colds in the head," that I take pleasure in testifying to its merits. Two or three applications have always removed the disagreeable symptoms, dried the weeping eyes and quenched the Bardolphian flames of the nose. If it possessed no other virtue, its worth would be beyond price as a simple and effective antidote for the horrors of a "cold in the head."

Yours truly,
GEO. A. MARTIN.

LIQUOR STORE.—A whiskey store, like the Profession of the Law, seems to be a necessary evil. The greatest difference, however, is, that while whiskey generally lures the erring sons of Adam into trouble, it is the business of the legal profession to get them out of it. Our friend Baum, whose liquors have been so well advertised of late, prides himself on the fact that he keeps within the bounds of the law, and sells nothing but good liquor.

Mr. Baum has, we are informed, a very large quantity of a superior quality of liquor on hand, which he is anxious to dispose of to the trade. Persons wishing to secure good liquors, cheap, should call soon. Politicians and travelling candidates supplied with the very best, in quantities, however, not less than a quart.

BEECH CREEK, Aug. 13, 1869.

MESSRS EDITORS:—Elisha McElhoe, a lad about 21 years of age, of Curtin tp., was very badly hurt, across the back, while felling timber, at Cato, in Snow Shoe tp., on Friday, the 6th inst, by the falling of a limb. Had not Dr. Thomas Rothrock been out attending to a sick child in the neighborhood at the time it is believed that the injuries would have proved fatal; but, under the skilful treatment of the Doctor, the young man is doing well.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday mornings, the 6th, 7th and 8th inst., in Snow Shoe, and Cato, in Snow Shoe tp., it was so cold that the logs and boards were covered with frost and ice. On the high grounds, leaves, potatoe, tomatoe and bean tops were killed by the frost.

On Thursday, the 12th inst., Jerry Donavan, a resident of Lock Haven, while cutting timber, on the Big Run, or East branch of Beech creek, was struck by a falling tree, and dislocated his hip. Being some 12 miles from the village of Beech Creek, no medical aid could be had for some eight hours after he was hurt. Dr. Thomas Rothrock was sent for, and went promptly, but the injured limb had become so swollen that the Dr. could not replace it without assistance and chloroform. On Friday the Doctor had him taken to his home, in Lock Haven, where he (the Dr.) was assisted by Dr.'s Armstrong and Irvin, who succeeded in replacing the dislocated joint, and the patient is now doing well.

Special Notices.

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.—The Jersey Shore Herald, published in Jersey Shore, Lycoming county, Pa., says: During the last week we had the pleasure of a visit from Mr. B. F. Walker the supervising and adjusting Agent of the Farmers Mutual Insurance Company of York, Pa. Mr. Walker came here for the purpose of adjusting the losses of Messrs. W. R. Wilson & Co., who were burned out as stated in our last issue. They were insured in the York Company for the sum of three thousand dollars. This amount was paid in full by the Company. The gentlemanly liberality of Mr. Walker toward the insured is too well known through the State generally to need commendation at our hands, and he has well justified his previous reputation during the short time he was adjusting the loss here.

The York Company has been in existence for sixteen years and although it is as its name shows, a Mutual Company, it has never in that whole time had a single assessment upon those insured in it. The Company has now net cash assets to the amount of over $132,600. Its total assets liable to losses for year ending April 1st, 1869, is $808,840.07. This company is remarkable not only for the economical plan upon which its business is conducted but also for the liberality and promptness with which they pay losses falling upon the Company. The Foundries of Messrs. Wilson were burned on Friday morning and by Monday evening the Company was represented upon the grounds by Mr. Walker.

We understand that during the two or three days Mr. W. was among us he took risks to the amount of $40,000, which amount he would have trebled if he had been able to remain longer in this vicinity. It seemed only to be necessary to present the company's statistics to the public when its superior advantages were at once seen by all.

We are constrained to speak thus fully of this company and its agent because we think the facts with regard to such matters should be presented and shown to our readers in such a way, that they can see at a glance where their true interests lie. And we do consider that we are simply doing our duty in fully recommending the York Company to our people and guaranteeing that it will amply fulfil all its contracts to the letter.

This Company has a live agent in Bellefont Mr. ISAAC HAUPT. He is active and energetic and attends to the business of the York insurance company as faithfully and as well, as he attends to his own. Every farmer and property holder in the county should be insured.

DODD'S

NERVINE

DID IT.

NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.

REMEMBERED FRIEND—I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am geting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entere recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. Very truly, jy21'69-4w. MRS. I. S. NUTE.

Management of Young Orchards.

Mr. Henry H. Crapo, of Michigan, in a late number of the Country Gentleman, in discussing the management of young orchards, makes these remarks:

It will be conceeded, I think, that the ultimate value of an orchard depends upon the healthy and vigorous growth of the trees while young—until, at least, their habits of growth, &c., become fully developed. As an apple tree can no more make such growth without proper care and treatment than any other plant, it becomes a question of serious consideration what these should be; for an orchard of stunted, dwarfed and sickly trees upon a farm is not only an unsightly object, but a valueless encumbrance.

The better course of treatment for an orchard of young trees, undoubtedly, is to cultivate the ground constantly with roots until they shall have attained a considerable size, during which the fertility of the soil should not only be kept up but increased by a liberal application of manure. Where this cannot be done, the next best method will be to seed down the ground exclusively with clover. This will not make a stiff, compact sward, like fine grasses, so detrimental to the growth of young trees, but will keep the land open and porous, as well as serve to enrich it.

When the clover shows indications of "running out," put in the plow and turn under the sward. The ground, for one season at least, should then be cultivated with some kind of root crop, to be followed again by clover. But if this is not practicable, then after being thoroughly plowed and worked over, clover should again be sown upon it—clover following clover.

In the meantime the ground immediately about the trees, sho'd be kept constantly shaded and manured to a distance equal, at least, to the diameter of the head of the tree—and the farther the better.

By this course the land will yield a fair return in clover crops, and at the same time will be constantly increasing in fertility; and in a few years the owner will find himself in possession of an orchard of healthy, vigorous and well developed bearing trees—not only one of the greatest ornaments to his farm, but a source of enjoyment, profit and real worth.

Watering Horses.

Horses should never be kept so long without water that they will drink largely when they get it. Give it to them often, and they will never injure themselves with it. Nothing is more common than to hitch a team to a plow and make them work half a day without a drop. What man wo'd submit to such a treatment? If the plow is started at seven in the morning, water should be given again before ten; and again in the afternoon at four o'clock. Even if half an hour is consumed, more work will be done in a day. The objection that horses on the road should not be loaded with water is not valid. A horse weighing twelve hundred will not be much encumbered addioitnally by twenty lbs. of water, while the detention will give him additional strength. Every farmer knows that when he himself undertakes to lift a large log or heavy stone he can do more by first inflating himself with air, and, not unfrequently, he loses a button or two from his pantaloons in the operation. Some degree of inflation by water will add to the horse's strength in a similar manner. In driving a horse on the road, at a natural gait of nine or ten miles an hour, I have frequently had occasion to observe that he was laboring with perspiration until I let him drink freely, when he ceased to sweat, and evidently traveled more freely.—Don't be afraid to give your horse water; the danger is in making them abstain too long, in which case care is needed.

TINNING.—Articles of copper and brass can be tinned with great facility by the use of a solution of the "salt on tin," (a chloride,) in ten parts of water, and adding to it a second solution made of caustic potash, also in ten parts of water. The clouded mixture soon becomes clear and when completely transparent is ready for use, until which, time it is to be kept in well closed glass bottles. For use, the mordant is to be heated in a vessel and a tin plate of considerable surface is to be suspended in it. The article to be tinned is then to be dipped in the vessel, from which it may be removed after a few minutes, and it will be found to be covered with a uniform silvery white coating.

COMMON steel may, it is claimed, be endowed with the properties of the finest cast metal, and when burned be brought back to its original condition, by the use of a tempering liquid invented by a French locksmith. His bath is prepared by adding two pounds of hydrochloric acid, 300 grains nitric acid (specific gravity 1,334), 325 grains of sulphate of zinc and about three ounces of tripoli to about four gallons of water. A piece of cast iron weighing about three ounces is to be placed in this liquid and allowed to remain twenty-four hours, when it is ready for use.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.
GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.
Sung to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.
The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now comple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.
The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.
No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.
CHORUS, for the end of each verse:
The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.
Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.
People who travel by other routes, and also people who, instead of traveling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.
Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality,
RANGING FROM $6.50 TO $18.00

SEWING MACHINES.

AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE
OVER SEAMING AND SEWING MACHINE COMBINED.
MEDAL AWARDED AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.

In directing attention to the celebrated COMBINATION BUTTON HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE, we feel fully warranted in claiming for it unquestionable superiority over all others as a Family Machine.—The Simplicity, Ease and Certainty with which it operates, as well as the uniform excellence of its work, certainly place it far in advance of any other similar invention of the age.
It is also the cheapest, intrinsically, as well as the best, since it is really two machines combined in one, (by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement never before accomplished by human ingenuity,) making either the Lock Stitch or Button Hole Stitch, as occasion may require. It is, at the same time, simple in construction, comparatively noiseless, easily understood, and, in a word, it combines with those advantages exclusively its own the most desirable qualities of all others, for it not only does every variety of sewing in a SUPERIOR MANNER, but in addition OVERSEAMS splendidly and makes beautiful BUTTON AND EYELET HOLES in all fabrics. This is far beyond the capacity of any other machine.
The SPLENDID MECHANISM of this Machine, and the superior skill workmanship and materials employed in its construction, are a guarantee of accuracy, strength and durability, and enable the company and its agents to Warrant Every Machine they sell to give entire satisfaction.
INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ON THE MACHINE GRATUITOUSLY.

SEWING MACHINE.
THE SINGER SEWING MACHINE.

Among sewing machines, those made by the Singer Manufacturing Company, rank with the highest. Their manufacturing machines, have long been known as the best for manufacturing purposes. But within the past few years, they have given special attention to the production of a FAMILY MACHINE,
destined to win much favor in the HOUSEHOLD.
The machine which they now offer is quiet, light-running, simple, fast, noiseless. Its accessories for
HEMMING, BRAIDING, BINDING,
QUILTING, TUCKING, CORDING, FELLING, GATHERING,
are simple and easily understood. Its delicate though enduring and tireless muscles of iron and steel, do all the work noiselessly, better, and few will deny, "Faster than hand can do it." They urge those wishing to purchase a machine, to examine all the other manufactures before buying, as it will, for itself, overcome all the objections to the other machines that can be brought against it. Machines on hand for sale and exhibition, together with a full and complete assortment of SILK, TWIST, LINEN, OR COTTON THREAD, and all the accessories for the machines, by

ON THE SHORTEST NOTICE.
This company is composed of practicable mechanics, and Samuel Adams, one of the Co., has been foreman of the Bellefonte Planing Mill since its commencement.
Connected with the mill, and in operation at all times, is one of the latest improved
COKE DRYING KILNS;
which leaves the lumber in a perfectly healthy state, assists in preserving it, and in fact adds to its lasting qualities, while other methods of drying deteriorate, and renders it more liable
TO DECAY AND WASTE.
Lumber dried in a Coke kiln, is dried perfectly, and when worked and put up, will not
